Shall we believe the veteran Arditi when he says: "I do not hesitate to pronounce the Kimball piano a noble instrument, and worthy of all praise;" or so thorough a lady as Mme. Albani when she says: 'I have found the Kimball piano a most excellent instrument;" or Patti, la diva herself, when she writes: "It gives me great pleasure to testify to the merits of the new Kimball piano. It has a wonderfully sweet and sympathetic tone;" or Tamagno, who sends "congratulations and best wishes;" or Ravelli, who declares the Kimball piano to be "excellent in tone and action;" or Del Pueute, who "congratulates" the firm "heartily" on their success; or Sarasate, who says the Kimball piano is "in every way worthy of prasie."

—Miss Mounts, a professional nurse from Chicago, is again in this city.

—The Lee County Board of Supervis- will meet in this city Tuesday next.

—Henry Adams is up from Amboy today with a load of luscious melons

—The young folks report having had an enjoyable party at the club rooms last night.

—Miss Maggie Clears left this morning for a few days visit with friends at Morrison.

—Mrs. A. E. Phillips and daughter Lula are visiting relatives at Moorseville, this state.

—Samuel How has left Wichita, Kansas, and is located in Chicago in the law business.

—The large Newfoundland dog "Turk" belonging to W. B. Steel, was killed by poison last night.

The popular little soubrette, Carrie LaMont, in "LaCigale" at the Opera House this evening

New music, new specialties, elegant scenery, with LaCigale Company at the Opera House this evening.

—George E. Dewey, of the Nachusa House, has gone east to visit at his old home in Turin, New York.

—Reimer Ryerson, who has been absent from Dixon about ten years is here on a visit. Dakota is his present home.

—Mr. and Mrs. Asa Judd are the proud parents of a fine eleven pound boy that arrived at Maple farm this morning. Mother and child are doing well.

—There was an immense crowd at the Morrison fair yesterday, and the racing, Roman chariot running and soldier drill were all interesting entertainments.

—Hon. Samuel Dysart, ex-President of the State Agricultural Society, stopped off last eveding on his way home from the Morrison fair, to visit relations here

—Miss Leora Young was brought home from Chicago yesterday, by her brother Thomas. She stood the journey well, nd it is to be hoped that she will soon be restored to health

—Chas. Aument, of Sterling, who formerly worked for John L. Lord, had a narrow escape yesterday at Morrison. His horses ran away and threw himself and family from the carriage.

—There is a rush for seats for the engagement of the celebrated Andrews Opera Company, which will produce the new and successful opera, the "Pretty Persian" here on Monday night.

—Rockford Register: You should have seen the zebras at Barnum's get mad yesterday afternoon. When passing the cage some one said they looked like a Freeport la-de-dah about to play tennis.

—Harry Underwood and bride are expected here this evening. Mr and Mrs. N. Underwood would request that their friends call informal at their North Dixon residence, Saturday evening, between seven and eleven o'clock.

—Mrs. George W. Mack died of consumption this morning at three o'clock. She was about twenty-five years old. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock from the late residence, the first house on the north side of First street, west of the arch.

—M. McRobert last night arrived with Mr. Crowley, an engineer of experience, and is ready to make a contract with the city for a street railroad. Mr. McRoberts does not propose to build an electric railroad, as heretofore stated, but the power by which his cars will be propelled is a new thing for that purpose; some sort of gas engine being used, we understand.

—Miss Francis E. Willard desires that the public be informed that she has not identified herself in any manner with the Salvation Army. She did invite Mrs. Ballington Booth, of that organization, to attend the National W. C. T. U. Convention held in Atlanta. So it now appears that all the editorial jokes about Miss Willard's street songs and tambourine solos were wasted wit.

—In one of the running races at the Morrison fair yesterday, occurred an accident which will probably prove fatal to one of the riders, a boy of fourteen years Joseph, son of Henry Little, of Rock Falls. The boy's mare bolted the track and in running over rough ground, threw the lad, and his foot remaining fast in the stirrup, the horse struck him on the head and otherwise so wounded him that the doctors did not think that he would recover.

—The "busy little bee" seems to be reduced to pretty sore straits this dry weather. Up at Dubuque, the Times says, the bees have invaded the wholesale liquor houses, candy manufactories, grocery houses and other places where sweets are kept. They swarm in at the open windows and after loading up depart. They worry their lives out in a vain endeavor to get through the glass of closed windows and are picked up by the shovel full every morning.

There is prospect of a lively rate war in western passenger rates owing to the alleged unfair handling of excursion tickets by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road.

The flood situation at Prague, Austro-Hungary, is growing worse. Guns were fired Thursday night to warn the people of their danger, the dam of a pleasure lake having burst

The Democratic congressional convention at Piqua, O., has taken 712 ballots without a choice. The last ballot was taken under the Australian system and took two hours.

The responsibility for the terrible accident on the Old Colony railway at Quincy, Mass., has been placed by the coroner's jury upon Track Foreman Welsh, who left the "jack" on the rails.

The magnates of the Brotherhood and American association base ball aggregations say the story of a meeting at Philadelphia to fix up a combine between the two was a very barren ideality.

Ned Gray was swept from the deck of a schooner in the Atlantic off the coast of Massachusetts, a week ago and was given up for dead. Thursday he appeared in the flesh, giving his family a joyful surprise.

Joseph F. Young, of Philadelphia, shot his wife and himself in a hotel at Atlantic City, N. J., at 1:30 Thursday morning. He suspected her of infidelity. The woman's wound is thought to be fatal, but the husband's is slight.

—We regret that J. Albert Hess contemplates leaving this city in a few days to make his home in Omaha. He and his wife will go to Albany, Wisconsin, tomorrow to visit at the lady's former home before going west.

—At a little before six o'clock this morning a gasoline stove at the Uriah Stroup residence on First street caused a small conflagration, which was soon extinguished. The fluid had leaked and thus caught fire. Jimmy Welch was the first to reach the city fire bell rope and he rang an alarm that brought both Hose and Hook & Ladder companies out. Then our energetic official J. M. Julien took a pull at the rope for early morning exercise. It was time that all good citizens were out of bed so no one found very much objection.

—When it comes to pass that a Sterling man had rather die at Dixon than live in his own city things are working this way. If this is not true then Hamilton Wallace, of Sterling, had better be kept at home. Dixon whisky which he drank in this city Wednesday made him sad at thought of returning home to the bug juice they sell there. He wanted to die right here, and tried to throw himself under the evening passenger train at the C. & N. W. depot but was pulled away before the train started up. Marshal Ball corraled him until the midnight train arrived, on which he shipped him to Sterling.

—The International Association of Fairs were very fortunate in the arrangement of dates that do not seriously conflict in the holding of fairs belonging to the Association. For the information of exhibitors, the dates of the Great State Fair circuits are given below: Michigan, Detroit, August 26 to September 5; Pennsylvania, Washington, September 1-5; Michigan, (State) Lansing, September 8-12; West Virginia, Wheeling, September 8-12; Ohio, Columbus, September 15-19; Indiana, Indianapolis, September 22-27; Illinois, Peoria, September 29 to October 3; Missouri, St. Louis, October, 6-11. Iowa, Des Moines, August 29 to September 5: Nebraska, Lincoln, September 5-12; Kansas, Topeka, September 12-20; Wisconsin, Sheboygan, September 23-26.

—A very important matter will come before the city council this evening and therefore it will be well if the members of that body consider thoroughly the propositions made. Two parties have made application for a charter granting them privileges for street railways; and as the request of but one company can, probably, be granted the favor should be well considered and not disposed of with undue haste. The aldermen will in this affair act not only for the people of Dixon of to-day but they will, in granting such favors, as are now solicited, bind future generations to the contract; therefore wisdom must be exercised. The things to be considered are the wants of the people of to-day and also the probabilities of the future in matters of transportation. A charter granting right for a street railway company which contemplates a tramway that will accommodate only certain portions of the city; or which may be for the purpose of booming some particular addition, should not be for a moment considered as the proper thing to do. We do not believe that any thing of the sort is contemplated and only speak of what might be accomplished in that line, in order to call attention to the importance of the matter to be brought before the council this evening Until the city of Dixon has sufficient population to justify such an enterprise—that is to say, until the times arrives when it will pay—a street railway would be a detriment instead of a benefit, to the city as well as to the builders thereof. Perhaps the running expenses of electric railways are so small that such a tramway in Dixon would now "pay;" but these matters should be well considered by the city council. THE TELEGRAPH must not be considered in these remarks as opposed to a street railway, for it is not. It would be glad to see one under way to-day; and believes that at least the time will soon come when such an enterprise will not only pay but will be much needed. When this paper objected to the contract entered into between the city of Dixon and the Water Works Company it was not opposed to the enterprise then contemplated, for it well understood the needs of the city in that behalf; it simply wished the rights of the people well guarded in granting such an important frachise; the wisdom of its course has been well verified.

When a franchise for a street railway is granted the company asking for such an important privilege should be required to fairly accommodate all parts of the city. The good of the people must be regarded.

REED ON HIS OWN BATTLE FIELD.

An Address to the Citizens of Portland—Gen. Palmer Busy Keeping Up the Interest in Illinois—Mayor Peck Does a Little Work at La Crosse, Wis.—The Kansas Republicans on Prohibition—St. Louis Reformers Discuss a Platform—Nominated for Congress.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 5.—Hon. Thomas B. Reed, speaker of the national house of representatives, arrived here last night. His trip from Boston was a series of ovations at every stopping point. At Haverhill, Mass., there was a large crowd and Reed and Henry Cabot Lodge addressed it for twenty minutes. The speakers were escorted to the stand and back to the railway by a procession of Republican clubs, and upon the train starting it was sent on its way with a round of cheers. Short stops were made at Exeter, Newmarket, and Dover, and at each place the hearty welcome was repeated and the distinguished travelers spoke for a few minutes. The same thing occurred at Salmon Falls, North Berwick, Kennebunk and Saco.

The Speaking at Portland.

Three thousand people gathered at the city hall here last night to hear the issues discussed. Reed was accompanied to the platform by the mayor. State Representative Fogg, who presided, presented the speaker, who was received with a prolonged burst of applause. He said that until 1888 a Republican house had not been elected since 1874—not because there was not enough votes, but because the votes were not counted down south as they were cast, or intimidation had prevented them from being cast. Twenty-five seats in the house had been wrested from the Republicans under the open, defiant declaration that the southern Democratic white man shall not only rule the black man of the south, but the white man of the north.

The Rule of the Filibuster.

Continuing he said that long before the present congress had assembled the air had been resonant with the threats of the minority with declarations that they were to rule in utter disregard of the will of the people of the United States. At the very worst no measure should pass which did not have the sanction of their high approval. "If any man here thinks they reckoned without their host, that they had no foundation on which to build their threats, he knows little of the deep laid schemes of many years to render the Republicans powerless whenever they should get control. For years rule has been piled upon rule and decision upon decision to render legislation dependent upon the sufferance of the minority. Filibustering lurked in every line. The power of obstruction was without limit."

Keeping Platform Pledges.

He said that a system that enabled one-fifth of the members of the house to block legislation rendered elections useless, and called a halt to civilization itself. "When we cleared the decks for action there was plenty of work to do, and we have done it to the full measure of satisfaction. We have achieved all that the Republican party promised, and more. Most platforms are but glittering generalities, good enough for the campaign, but our last platform has been treated by the house of representatives like a deed of trust." In proof of this he cited the passage of the tariff bills, and lard bill and declared that the former was the result of the belief of the whole people. He said that there was another promise to be kept, and that was to enable every man in to vote and have his vote counted—and that pledge would also be redeemed.

Party Responsibility Begun.

He closed as follows: "What the house has shown the country that any house can do is worth a prince's ransom. Henceforth promise can not be excused except by performance. Henceforth great measures can not be lost and nobody know what has become of them. Party responsibility has begun, and with it also the responsibility of the people; for they can no longer elect a Democratic house and hope that the minority will neutralize their action, or a Republican house without being sure that it will keep its pledges. If we have broken the precedents of an hundred years, we have set the precedents of another hundred years, nobler than the last, wherein responsibility will wait on power, and wherein the people, with full knowledge that their servants can act, will choose those who will worthily carry out their will." Mr. Reed also paid a graceful tribute to the late Representatives Kelly, Randall, and Cox.

PECK GOES TO LA CROSSE.

The Democratic Candidate for Governor of Wisconsin Speaks.

LACROSSE, Wis., Sept. 5.—George W. Peck, mayor of Milwaukee and the Democratic nominee for governor, was a guest of his former LaCrosse friends and neighbors yesterday. He arrived on the early Milwaukee train, and was met at the station by Rescue Hose Company No. 1, of which he is an honorary member, and a band of music, and escorted to the club room, where he responded in a speech. Later he visited the fair grounds, where there were 15,000 people. He didn't talk politics, but devoted his remarks to a few reminiscences and congratulations.

In the evening Peck was tendered a reception at the rooms of the Jefferson club, and for the first time during his visit struck a political vein. The spacious rooms of the club were packed and several local speakers talked briefly upon the issues now confronting the Democratic party in this state.

Mr. Peck was received everywhere with enthusiastic demonstrations.

THE VOTE OF VERMONT.

Same Revised Figures of the Recent Election—The Legislature.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Sept. 5.—A revised and correct compilation from 233 towns, embracing the complete gubernatorial vote of 7 of the 14 counties in the state give Page (Rep) 32,610, Brigham 18,745; all others 1214. Majority for Page 12,692. The same towns in 1888 gave Dillingham 47,053, Shurtleff 19,226; all others 1,332. Majority for Dillingham 26,455. Decrease in Republican vote 14,402 and in Republican majority 13,763; decrease in Democratic vote 481. Only eleven towns are wanted to coplete the total vote. One hundred and ten towns in the Second congressional district give Grout 15,812, Shurtleff 7,149; majority for Grout, 8,383. Ninety-two towns in the First congressional district give Powers 11,484, Maloney 7,559; majority for Powers, 3,925. The number of Democratic representatives elected, as per returns, is about 60, or a gain of 42 over 1888.

GEN. PALMER'S CANVASS.

He Speaks to the Democracy of Elizabethtown Ills.

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ills., Sept. 5.—Gen. Palmer arrived here yesterday and spoke to a good audience in a ravine near the Wyman house. State's Attorney Fowler introduced Gen. Palmer. The general referred to the past history of the state, briefly reviewing the noteworthy incidents. Regarding the old soldiers he said: "Many men are still shaking the bloody shirt. Well, their shirts were never bloody in the war. Other of these shirt shakers were infants at their mothers' breasts when we were at the front fighting for our country, and generally, I may say, the 100-day men are yet the most savage of us all." He then tackled the tariff and gave a vigorous outline of the Democratic view.

The general was greeted with frequent and long-continued applause.

They Stand by Prohibition.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 5.—The Republican convention yesterday adopted a platform of which the following is the prohibition plank: "Ten years' exemption from the evil effects of the traffic in intoxicating liquors, secured by a faithful observance of the constitutional amendment and the statutes supplemental thereto, by which vice has been lessened and crime decreased, leads us to express a determined opposition to any change in the prohibitory legislation of our state, except such as will make the laws stronger and more efficient, and increase the good order, sobriety and welfare of the people."

The Iowa Prohibitionists.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 5.—The Prohibitionists held a well-attended and enthusiastic state convention here yesterday and nominated the following state ticket: Secretary of state, C. R. McFarland; auditor of state, Ira Dorcas; treasurer, J. C. Reed; supreme judge, G. B. Turney; reporter supreme court, O. B. Crawford; clerk supreme court, D. F. Spurrier. The platform adopted declares prohibition is the paramount political issue of the party, and declares for a tariff for revenue. The convention also resolved to put a congressional ticket in each district and a county ticket in each county.

Nominated for Congress.

KEOKUK, Ia., Sept. 5.—The Republicans of the First congressional district yesterday unanimously renominated John H. Geer to succeed himself.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 5.—The Republicans of the Fourth congressional district of Missouri at their convention held yesterday nominated Hon. Nicholas Ford by acclamation.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 5.—The Democratic convention for the Third congressional district yesterday nominated Allen R. Bushnell for congress.

New York Republican Clubs.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 5.—President McAlpin called the state convention of Republican clubs to order yesterday at 12:30. The convention was enthusiastic, particularly when Blaine's name was mentioned. Several speeches were made, one by Hon. James M. Tyner, of Indiana. The secretary reported 354 clubs in the state. Resolutions were adopted of the orthodox Republican kind with an indorsement of the reciprocity idea where it does not conflict with protection.

Grosvenor and Bynum in Joint Debate.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Fifteen thousand people listened yesterday to a debate on the tariff question between Representative Bynum, of Indiana, and Representative Grosvenor, of Ohio, at the Oswego fair. Both speakers were loudly cheered, and presented ingenious and plausible arguments. The debate was exceedingly spirited and interesting, and lasted two and one half hours.

The National Reformers.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5.—The National Reform party is still in session at Central Turner hall. The committee on resolutions remained out until 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when it presented a platform containing twenty-one planks, of which a synopsis was given in these dispatches yesterday. Debate on their adoption was very warm and an adjournment was taken.

CATCHING THE OTHER FELLOW.

A Rascal Who Wanted to Buy "Green Goods" Captured.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 5.—The postoffice department has received information of the first arrest under the act of March 2, 1889, which makes it unlawful to answer a green goods circular. J. S. Nicholson wrote from Matthewston, Md., under date of Oct. 15, to Adam P. Conklin, Hoboken, N. J., in answer to a type written circular. Conklin's mail was stopped, and Nicholson's letter was found containing $10, for which he was to receive $300 worth of green goods. The arrest was made Tuesday at Lewiston, Md., and Nicholson was held under $1,500 bonds to await the action of the grand jury, in default of which he went to jail.

The American Bankers.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 5.—At Thursday's session of the American Bankers' association Edward Atkinson, of Boston, addressed the association on the topic, "Credit as Affecting Prices." Hon. William L. Trenholm, ex-comptroller of the currency,' followed with an address on "The Bonds of Bank Officers and Employes." Hon. Jay L. Torrey, of St. Louis, expounded the national bankrupt law and Hon. Benjamin Wright read a paper on "Banking on the Pacific Coast." The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Morton McMichael, of Philadelphia; first vice president, R. M. Nelson, of Selma, Ala.; treasurer, George F. Baker, of New York; secretary, William B. Green, of New York.

Brickmakers Want No Arbitration.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—In response to a dispatch from the state board of arbitration as to the existing trouble, a sub-committee of the Brickmakers' association called on the board yesterday and stated that they had nothing to arbitrate and that they proposed to run their yards and employ whom they please without dictation. The board said they would get the statement of the walking delegates and then transmit it to the association.

Shock of Earthquake in California.

GILROY, Cal., Sept. 5.—A sharp shock of earthquake was felt here at 2:20 p. m. Wednesday. Its duration was about two seconds.

SOME BAD BREAKS.

A New York Commission Firm Short of Money.

LIABILITIES ARE NOT YET KNOWN.

But Scarcely a Doubt That They Will Go Up into the Millions—Too Much Monkeying with Pork and Wheat Did the Business—The Potter-Lovell Company Expected To Be $5,000,000 on the Wrong Side of the Ledger—Other Failures Reported.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Samuel A. Sawyer, David L. Wallace, and Thomas Miller, constituting the firm of Sawyer, Wallace & Co., cotton, coffee, and provision commission merchants, of 18 Broadway have assigned for the benefit of creditors to Marshall Ayres, without preferences. The assignment was a surprise on all the exchanges and on Wall street. The firm was an old one, having been thirty-seven years in business here. It had been interested in many big deals and is reported to have lost $1,000,000 in pork last January. It had branch houses in London and other European cities.

Will Reach Into the Millions.

The failure will undoubtedly reach into the millions, though at present, it is impossible to make any approximate estimate. It is estimated that the sum total of nominal assets will reach $1,750,000, among which are included the $1,000,000 lost in the pork deal. In 1882 the firm made an attempt to corner corn in the New York market but made a failure of it. The firm have undoubtedly immense holdings of merchandise in the various products in which they dealt, both in an export and import way. It will, however, take time to realize on these holdings and the general opinion is that the assignment was made to limit the loss on speculative options.

WILL REACH FIVE MILLIONS.

The Potter-Lovell Crash Growing Worse—Hoxie & Mellor.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—It looks now as if the liabilities of the Potter-Lovell company will aggregate more than $5,000,000. Assignee Haskell's report is not ready yet, nor will it be for several days to come. The information relative to the $5,000,000 liabilities comes from a reliable source. Meanwhile other houses are beginning to feel the effects of the crash. Parties who might have been embarrassed by the failure of their note brokers to furnish the usual accommodation have established a credit in other quarters.

A Chicago Man's Interest.

The directors of the company are Walter Potter, of Cohasset; Wallace D. Lovell, of Newton; George W. Terrell, of Boston; J. V. Farwell, of Chicago, and J. D. Cheever, of New York. It is said that under the Massachusetts law directors are personally liable for all debts in excess of the capital of the company. It is said that J. V. Farwell and J. D. Cheever, though notified of their election for two years, have never accepted or taken any action in the business of the company, and there are some doubts as to their being in any way responsible or the legal officers of the company.

Hoxie & Mellor May Pull Through.

ANTIGO, Wis., Sept. 5.—E. N. Mellor, of the firm of Hoxie & Mellor, said last night that the reported attachment was true, but that he believed it would prove only a temporary embarrassment. He placed the assets of the firm at $600,000, and thought $400,000 would more than cover the indebtedness. The parties who made the attachment were secured by chattel mortgages in Michigan. He said that no assignment would be made and seemed to be hopeful of pulling through all right.

Less Important Smashes.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 5.—Wykes & Co., live stock commission men, have failed, with liabilities of $10,000; assets, considerably less.

The Evening News has been closed on attachments procured by the Rochester Paper company and the Remington Paper company, amounting to $7,100. The paper has been in existence six years.

HARTINGTON, Neb., Sept. 5.—W. M. Nash's general merchandise store was closed yesterday by Omaha creditors. The liabilities are $5,000; assets about the same.

Investigating Gen. Raum.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 5.—The Raum investigation was a failure yesterday owing to the absence of Cooper, an absence regarding which the committee did not attempt to conceal its impatience. Counsel for Pension Attorney Lemon preferred that Cooper be present and complained that he was giving the newspapers a good deal of matter inimical to Mr. Lemon and giving him no opportunity to refute the same, by this policy of delay. Counsel was desirious to put Cooper himself on the stand and suggested that a subpoena be issued for him, and the suggestion was adopted. Flick stated that he had read the evidence and saw no reason for beginning the inquiry over again. The committee then adjourned to Monday, when the hearing will be continued.

The United Typothetæ.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—At the session of the United Typothetæ yesterday it was decided to hold the next meeting at Cincinnati on the third Tuesday in October, 1891. The apprenticeship system came up and it was urged that it be adopted and that employers be scrupulous in doing their duty to apprentices. A resolution was adopted deprecating the craze for grotesque and fancy job type as causing needless expense to printers. A. H. Pugh, of Cincinnati, was elected president, and Emmett Waddy, of Richmond, Va., corresponding secretary.

Where Boulanger Got His Money.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—In an address to his constituents Wednesday night M. Laguerre, the well-known Boulangist, and a member of the chamber of deputies, warmly thanked the Duchess d'Usess for contributing 3,000,000 francs to advance the cause of Gen. Boulanger. In an interview published in The Siecle Gen. Boulanger says that he does not dsspair of playing an important part in the affairs of France, or of revenging himself upon his enemies.

Vance at His Jokes Again.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 5.—While the senate was considering the tariff bill yesterday, paragraph 426, relating curled hair having been read, Vance said that if he could only get the people to read the bill their hair would curl without any encouragement. [Laughter.]

INDIGNANT PENNSYLVANIANS.

They Will Try to Shut Kennedy's Speech Out of The Record.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 5.—The speech of Kennedy of Ohio, delivered in the house Wednesday, in which he criticised the action of the senate in shelving the federal elections bill and attacked the personal record of Senator Quay, was the principal topic of coversation about the Capitol yesterday. Burrows of Michigan, who, as speaker pro tem, was in the chair when Kennedy delivered his remarks, says that Kennedy was not called to order by him for attacking the senate, a violation of the rules of the house, because custom has ordained that some member on the floor, and not the chairman, is the proper person to make the necessary point of order.

Action of the Keystone State Men.

The Pennsylvania delegation called on Burrows and indignantly protested against his failure to call Kennedy to order. The delegation has consulted in regard to Kennedy's remarks. O'Neill has drawn up a resolution reciting that Kennedy has violated the rules and privileges of the house by using language uncomplimentary to the senate and to Senator Quay, and providing that the speech shall be withheld from publication in The Record. The resolution will be offered at the first opportunity by Dalzell of Pennsylvania, if Kennedy will not consent to withhold his remarks. Kennedy says that he will publish his speech in The Record when it is revised.

How the Senate Feels About It.

Quay was in consultation with Ingalls and other Republican senators yesterday, and it is understood it was decided to be advisable for him to take no action in regard to the speech. A prominent senator, familiar with parliamentary precedents and practices, when asked what would be the proper course to be pursued, if it were decided to do anything, said that if, after a time, the house took no action, the senate should pass a resolution, courteous in tone calling the attention of the house to the unparliamentary procedure, and then leave it to deal with the question as it saw fit.

DEATH OF EX-GOVERNOR NOYES.

The Ohio Soldier and Statesman Drops Dead on the Street.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 5.—Judge Edward F. Noyes, of the superior court, dropped dead shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday on North Court street near the large entrance to the jail yard. He had just left the court house, having heard an injunction case. Coming down from the bench the judge entered into conversation with several friends, and just as he reached the gateway he staggered and fell, striking his head against a stone wall. A gentleman who was walking behind him at the time ran to his assistance, but after a few short gasps the general expired.

The Record of His Life.

Edward Follensbee Noyes was born in Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 3, 1832. He served five years in a printing office, graduated at Dartmouth in 1857, and at the Cincinnati law school in 1858. In July, 1861 he was commissioned major of the Thirty-ninth Ohio volunteers. He was in many of the great battles of the war, lost a leg at Raff Mills, and was made a brigadier general in 1865. In that year he was elected city solicitor, and two years later judge of the probate court. He was chosen governor of Ohio in 1871, and in 1877 was appointed as United States minister to France. He was a member of the celebrated commission to determine the Hayes contest. March, 1889, he was elected judge of the superior court, which place he filled up to the time of his demise.

Changes in the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 5.—The senate made some important amendments to the tariff bill yesterday, as follows: Flax, not hackled, reduced from 1½ cents per pound to $20 per ton. The Democrats voted solidly for this and the Republican negative votes were Allen, Cameron, Casey, Davis, Dolph, Higgins, McMillan, Moody, Paddock, Pierce, Sherman, Stockbridge, Washburn and Wilson of Iowa. Hackled flax was reduced to $40 per ton from 4 cents per pound, most of the above Republicans voting again in the negative. Hemp tow was reduced to $10 per ton from $25, and jute yarn to 25 per cent. Binding twine was put on the free list, most of the above Republicans voting aye, and only one Democrat—Blodgett—voting nay. The provision taxing burlaps of flax, jute or hemp over sixty inches wide 2 cents a pound was struck out. Undressed feathers were put on the free list.

Cattlemen Get an Extension of Time.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 5.—Maj. Calvin Hood, of Emporia, Kan., who came east to represent the cattlemen, who were ordered to leave the Cherokee strip by Oct. 1, has seen the president. The cattlemen claimed that if the order was enforced as originaliy issued they would suffer great losses. The president told Maj. Hood that if the cattlemen would give a guarantee that one-half of the cattle would be removed by Nov. 1, and the other half by Dec. 1, he would modify the order accordingly. This compromise will be accepted by the cattlemen.

Wants to Substitute Greenbacks.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 5.—McClellan of Indiana introduced in the house yesterday a bill to retire the circulation of national banks, to issue legal tender notes in lieu thereof, to reduce the interest-bearing public debt, and to amend the laws in relation thereto.

A movement has been started in England to build a monument to Cardinal Newman.

Skins on Fire

With Itching, Burning, Bleeding Eczemas Instantly Relieved by Cuticura Remedies.

Our little son will be four years of age on the 25th inst. In May, 1885, he was attacked with a very painful breaking out of the skin. We called in a physician who treated him for about four weeks. The child received little or no good from the treatment, as the breaking out, supposed by the physician to be hives in an aggravated form, became larger in blotches, and more and more distressing. We were frequently obliged to get up in the night and rub him with soda in water, strong liniments, etc. Finally we called other physicians, until no less than six had attempted to cure him, all alike failing, and the child steadily getting worse and worse, until about the 20th of last July, when we began to give him CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally, and the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and by the last of August he was so nearly well that we gave him but one dose of the RESOLVENT about every second day for about ten days longer, and he has never been troubled since with the horrid malada. In all we used less than one half of a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a little less than one box of CUTICURA, and only one cake of CUTICURA SOAP. H. E. RYAN,
Cayuga, Livingston Co., Ill.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this fourth day of January, 1887. C. N. BOE, J. P.

Cuticura Resovent

Parents, do you realize how your little ones suffer, when their tender skins are literally on fire with itching, burning, scaly and blotched skin and scalp disease? To know that a single application of the CUTICURA REMEDIES will often afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a permanent and economical (because so speedy) cure, and not to use them without a moment's delay, is to be guilty of positive inhumanity. No greater legacy can be bestowed upon a child than a clear skin and pure blood. CUTICURA REMEDIES are absolutely pure, and may be used from infancy to age, from pimples to scrofula

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c; SOAP, 25c; RESOLVENT $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, Boston.

Diabolical Deed of the Train Wreckers.

FEARFUL LOSS OF LIFE RUMORED.

The Scoundrels Tie Rails to the New York Central Tracks and Cause a Certain Loss of Five Lives and Possibly More—A Large Number Reported Wounded—A Frightful Disaster Narrowly Averted in the Albany Yards.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Great uneasiness was felt here shortly after midnight. An express train on the New York Central due at 11:30 last night had not been heard from. It left Hudson, only twenty-eight miles distant, on time and was one of the fastest running trains on the road. The train is the Adirondack, Montreal & Niagara Falls express, composed mostly of sleepers and has several cars for Chicago and the west attached. A farmer drove into East Albany and reports that the train was wrecked three miles north of Castleton. Rails had been tied to the tracks.

Further Particulars.

LATER.—Train No. 13, the Adirondack, Montreal and Niagara Falls express, was wrecked three miles north of Castleton. Four men and a woman are reported killed. It is reported that rails or ties were fastened on the track. Details are not obtainable at present. News of the wreck was brought to East Albany by a farmer who drove in. The train consisted mostly of sleepers. It is doubtless a case of malicious train-wrecking.

A great number of people were injured in the Castleton wreck and have been brought to Albany. It was the second section of the Montreal express that was wrecked, and it is likely that not less than 400 people were on the train.

The Death List Probably Large.

It is now thought that the death list will be large.

It is reported that the train went over an embankment and that thirteen vestibule cars were wrecked. Doctors have been hurried from Albany to the scene of the disaster.

The Montreal express left the Grand Central station, New York, at 7:30 last evening. It was made up of eight vestibule sleeping cars and two day coaches. None of the general or division officers of the company were summoned to the station, the Albany officers having charge of the track where the wreck occurred. Late reports are to the effect that the train was deliberately wrecked.

Another Dastardly Attempt.

Superintendent Bissell says that an attempt to wreck a portion of a freight train was made yesterday afternoon at Van Woert street crossing in this city. As the train was proceeding west at that point somebody, he said, succeeded in parting the couplers of the second rear car from the rest of the train. The two cars thus separated gained speed as they rolled down the hill at this point. As they passed through the upper part of the yards a brakeman observed them, and succeeded in boarding them as they rolled on the upper railroad bridge, and stepped them within 100 feet of the open draw. The draw had been opened to allow the passage of one of the Troy boats, which was just passing through as the cars were brought to a standstill. Had the runaways continued on they would have plunged down on the vessel, which was freighted with human lives. Superintendent Bissell says the company has as yet obtained no clue to the parties who parted the coupling.

OTHER FATALITES REPORTED.

Fatal Colliery Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 5.—An explosion occurred yesterday afternoon at No. 4 colliery of the Kingston Coal company, at Edwardsville, Pa., and two men were badly injured and one fatally. The following are the injured: John E. Jones, miner, frightfully burned, and cannot live; John T. Armstrong, mine boss and William D. Lewis, miner, seriously burned. The explosion was probably caused by a body of gas being set off with a naked light.

Caused the Death of Two Men.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Sept. 5.—A fatal freight wreck occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio road eight miles west of here about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. An east-bound freight train ran into the rear of the pick up train, and the engine and sixteen cars were almost totally destroyed. James Cordell, engineer of the freight, is missing and is believed killed. The body of an unknown man has also been found in the wreck. The cars caught fire from the engine.

Blew the Wrench Two Squares.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—One of the gas tanks at the pumping station of the Reading railroad at Ninth and Melon streets, exploded yesterday afternoon while being refilled by Charles Abling. Abling was knocked down and received a scalp wound. A wrench which he had been using was hurled a distance of two squares, and crashed through the back window of a grocery store. The concussion broke many windows in the neighborhood.

Three Green Hands Badly Hurt.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Rufus Barrett, a freight conductor from Evansville, Ind.; James Ryan, of Philadelphia, and Brakeman William Skidmore, of Brooklyn, all green hands employed in the New York Central railroad yards, while employed in coupling cars, were more or less badly injured yesterday by being caught between the cars.

Stopped When Holland Came In.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 5.—The potters' national district assembly are in session here. Delegate Henry, of Ohio, introduced a memorial giving among other reasons why the potters should leave the Knights of Labor, that the order kept the potters in trouble because of its constant strikes and that the assessments were too much of a drain. J. J. Holland, of the executive board arrived, and further discussion was postponed. Later the convention decided not to leave the Knights of Labor.

A Monument for a Pillmaker.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Bruce Joy, the sculptor, has completed his recent contracts and will sail for America soon with several of his works, including the monument which is to mark the grave of the late J. C. Ayer at Lowell. This consists of a marble lion weighing five tons, on a pedestal weighing seven tons.

House and Senate in Brief.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 5.—In the senate yesterday consideration of the tariff bill was continued under the five-minute rule. The amendment of Davis to put binding twine on the free list was agreed to—34 to 24. The senate disposed of all the paragraphs in the dutiable list except sugar.

In the house Cummings, rising to a personal explanation in connection with Canton's famous "blacklist," made a long speech in criticism of the speaker and the rules. The Clayton-Breckinridge election case was debated further without action. The house passed the senate bill to authorize the survey of the seventh standard parallel between North and South Dakota.

The Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City.

DUBUQUE, Ia., Sept. 5.—The fourth annual meeting of the Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City road was held here yesterday. President Stickney presented his report, which shows that the earnings of the road for the past year show an increase over the preceding year of $1,447,678, or over 52 per cent. A new board was elected. General Manager J. M. Egan was elected president, as well as general manager.

Started on an Ocean Race.

JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE.

A Song, Interrupted by Musketry, Is Finished Several Months Later.

Rev. Dr. Henry M. Field, editor of The New York Evangelist and the author of a recent volume entitled "Bright Skies and Dark Shadows," a compilation of war reminiscences, in a letter suggested that the hero of one of his best chapters was now residing in Kansas City. The story was that just before the battle of Franklin (Tenn.) a Federal officer was being entertained by the family of Col. McEwen, then, as now, a prominent citizen of that place. One of Col. McEwen's daughters was singing to the officer the at that time popular melody, "Just Before the Battle, Mother." The song was interrupted at the conclusion of the first verse by the roll of musketry. The officer hurried to the battlefield, was there desperately wounded, and for a long time wavered between life and death. On his return through Franklin, nearly seven months after that desperate battle, he called at the mansion of Col. McEwen and asked the young lady to complete the song left unfinished when the battle began.

Col. I. H. Waters, of this city, was the Federal officer mentioned, and the terrible wound he received at the battle of Franklin was not completely healed until 1884, when the last piece of bone was taken out.

"The battle of Franklin has not occupied my thoughts for at least twenty-five years," said Col. Waters, "but as I look back upon that day in November, and remember the hospitality accorded me by the family of Col. McEwen, I can see the events of that time as in a mirror. I was colonel of the Eighty-fourth Illinois under Kimball, and on the day in question, Nov. 30, we had been busy all day perfecting our intrenchments. We had but five divisions to oppose Hood's entire army and we were rushing to get our defenses completed. Our lines took in the town of Franklin, our right and left flanks resting on Harper's Ferry.

"In the afternoon of that day Gen. Kimball and I went out prospecting for something to eat. We had had no breakfast or dinner and were consequently very hungry. Col. McEwen's residence was a fine old property, situated on a slight elevation. We asked a native who lived there. He told us, at the same time informing us that he was a lawyer by profession, and that he was at that time at home. Arriving at the house we were greeted pleasantly by Col. McEwen, and on our informing him that we had eaten nothing that day, not because of want of appetite, but lack of viands, he gave us a substantial cold lunch. He also introduced us to his daughters, of whom he had three, all of whom I believe were single at that time. Gen. Kimball suggested that the young ladies entertain us with some music and the request was complied with.

"'As you are hourly expecting to meet with Hood,' said one of the young ladies, 'perhaps the most appropriate song we could sing would be this,' and she began: 'Just Before the Battle, Mother,' which, though old to them, was new to us.

"She had finished the first verse when we were startled by the rattle of musketry, the enemy attacking Waggoner's right. We darted out of the house leaving the young lady sitting at the piano. The battle was on when we reached the field. About 9:30 that night I was shot through the shoulder and was left for dead. It was the following April when we were returning through Franklin that Gen. Kimball and I again called upon Col. McEwen to thank him for his hospitality and to apologize for our abrupt departure on the day of the battle of Franklin. I still had my arm in a sling. While we were enjoying the colonel's hospitality I told the young ladies that now would be an excellent time to complete the song which had been so suddenly broken on the date of the battle, six months before."—Kansas City Times.

Not to Be Blown Out.

The world progresses so fast that it is hard for some people to keep up with it, and even a young collegian is once in a while left behind. An intercollegiate oratorical contest had been held in Kansas City, and one of the competitors remained overnight at a hotel.

He retired at 10 o'clock—a fact which certainly speaks well for him—and about midnight the hallman noticed a peculiar odor, as of burning cloth. He notified the night clerk and a police officer, and the three men at once began an investigation. They were not very long in locating the seat of the trouble in the young collegian's room, and a few minutes' hammering brought him to the door with a request to know what they wanted.

As soon as the night clerk entered the room he saw the cause of the alarming odor. The guest had wrapped a thin towel around the incandescent electric light globe—the glow light is a better term—and it had become scorched.

"What on earth do you mean by this?" demanded the clerk.

"The light hurt my eyes and I wanted to shade it," explained the young fellow.

"Why didn't you put it out, then?"

"Well," answered the collegian, apologetically, "I blew and blew on the thing till I thought I'd go to pieces, and then I gave it up."—Kansas City Times.

A Chorister's Mistake.

A very humorous story is told of Robin Brown, the singing blacksmith. He had little musical skill and often went off the tune altogether. At that time it was the custom to read out the lines. Brown, who was troubled with a dimness of vision, called out, "My eyes are dim, I cannot see," and the congregation sang the line under the notion that it was a portion of the hymn. Brown felt annoyed and called out, "I cannot see at all." The congregation followed. More lustily he called out, "I think the people have gone mad," which they also sung, and then he bawled out, "The mischief take you all." Finding out their mistake the singing ceased, but the precentor was often told he had "set the hale kirk a-laughing."—Exchange.

Thousand of people are slowly poisoning themselves weakening their hearts by the use of tea, coffey, tobacco and alcohol. These are HEART WHIPS, causing it to beat rapidly, thus gradually wearing it out, producing shortness of breath when exercising, pains in side and shoulder, hungrey and faint spells. Finally swelling of the ankles and sudden death. Rheumatism.

A great many cases of rheumatism come from kidney trouble, for rheumatism it is now believed, comes from uremic acid in the blood caused by defective secretion of the kidneys, Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure will restore these organs to their normal condition and thus relieve an ordinary case of rheumatism in a week. Its effect is marvelous. Rheumatism generally comes with a slight cold and if it is neglected, it grows worse and worse. Many people suffer from this malady all of their lives, who might have escaped and been relieved if they had only taken Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure at the outset. After the system has been racked and the joints have begun to swell and deposits of urate of soda or chalk stones have set in, then the sufferer hies to some mineral spring to have the disease "boiled out of him," if he be rich, or he hobbles about on crutches and bemoans his fate if he be poor. Any ordinary case can be cured in the start by a bottle of Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure if taken according to directions. The virtues of this remedy are that it is a tonic as well as a specific for colds and that it enables the stomach to digest and assimilate its food and this purifies the blood and allays the irritation in the air passages. This great remedy is at once a tonic and a stimulant without having anything in its composition that is in the slightest manner deleterious. It can be left anywhere about the house and if the children get it and take it, will not harm them in the least.

A FOUR CENT WEDDING FEE.

Some Curious and Laughable Marriage Incidents Related.

Rev. Mr. Woodruff and Rev. J. J. White were seated in the cozy little parlor of the latter's residence on South Third street, Brooklyn. They were discussing the marriage question and reference was made to the numerous marriages solemnized by Mr. White.

"I want to tell you," said Mr. Woodruff, "a peculiar incident that occurred to me not long ago. A young couple presented themselves at my house to be married. After I had performed the ceremony the husband gave me $1. The next day the bride called on me and said her husband had made a mistake, as it was his intention to give me $5. 'Now,' said she, 'if you will give me the dollar back again I will take it and return at once with the larger amount.' I gave her the dollar and she went away, and that is the last I have seen of her or her husband. I have done nothing but talk about the meanness of that bride from that day to this."

"I married a couple a few weeks ago," joined in Rev. Mr. White. "I had married the groom's brother a short time before. The last couple brought a large party with them, and I thought I would get a good fee from the groom. On retiring after the ceremony the young man handed me an envelope. I opened it and read: 'Mr. White: I am out of work this week, but will come on Saturday night and give you $5.' I have not seen him since.

"I knew a couple in Xenia, O., who were married by Rev. Mr. White at that place. After they had been made one the husband said: 'I have no money, but I own a large field of potatoes, and if it will suit you just as well I will pay you for your trouble with some of them.' The minister agreed to take his fee in potatoes. The husband, true to his word, brought Mr. White his fee in a peck measure, potatoes at the time being worth twenty-five cents a bushel. His fee for performing the wedding ceremony was just four and a half cents. My namesake often told me the story and laughed heartily over it.

"I have married on an average about seven couples each week. Sometimes I have had two couples at a time. I married a man from Tremont the other night to a young woman named Lockwood residing on this street. The other day I married a minister's daughter from Newtown. Her husband was 21 years old. I told her that I took it for granted that she was a very good and pious person, because she was the daughter of a minister. She did not affirm, but simply smiled. Continuing, I said all ministers' children ought to be good, though I apprehended there is a little human nature left in them, though they are ministers' daughters. I married three couples the night before. During June and July marriages usually fall off, but thus far they have been my busiest months.

"Some of the couples who come here are very liberal. I joined two young persons in wedlock who walked to my house and after the ceremony gave me $10. Then I have had others who drove here in their coaches who only offered $2. You can always tell them by the style they put on."—New York World.

Alkali and the Virus of Rabies.

In the account prepared by Dr. Bright, of Kentucky, of his treatment of various cases of hydrophobia he expresses the opinion that if the blood of a person bitten is kept in an alkaline condition for several weeks the virus of rabies is by this means destroyed or rendered inert. It has long been known that ammonium alkali is an antidote to the virus of venomous reptiles if injected into the circulation immediately after the infliction of the bite.

It is remarked, however, that in the cases of children it would be more convenient to administer the chloride or acetate of ammonia, owing to the pungency of the carbonate, some care being also required in keeping the latter without a loss of any of its virtues on account of its great volatility. It is thought that after the first day or two it would not be necessary to exhibit the remedy at shorter intervals than, say, every six hours for three or four weeks. This would, it is believed, sufficiently alkalize the blood to neutralize or destroy the rabic poison.—New York Tribune.

A Lively Yankee Skipper.

A Yankee skipper is supposed to be equal to most anything, and a recent experience of Capt. A. L. Howard, of Rockland, helps to confirm this idea. Being unable to obtain a crew in Rockland, Capt. Howard resolved to alone take his schooner to a neighboring port, having obtained the assistance of two men to help him put aboard necessary provisions. When ready for sailing he sent the men ashore and started the vessel. Watching for a moment the boat he had sent shoreward, Capt. Howard saw it capsize and the two men precipitated into the water. He at once leaped from his vessel and swam to the rescue of the landsmen, righted the boat, assisted the men into it and rowed them safe to terra firma. He then swam back and boarded his vessel, which was beginning to make some headway before a stiff breeze.—Rockland (Me.) Free Press.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.—A druggist at Britt, Hancock County, Iowa, relates his experience with this disease as follows: During the summer of 1882, my little girl, two years of age, was taken seriously ill with summer complaint, so common to children of that age, and after being treated by a physician and getting no better, I took from my shelves a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoe Remedy. She felt relieved after the first dose, and in three days was entirely well.—Alex Moir. For sale by H. E Donaldson.

The success of Mrs. Annie M. Beam, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: 'I spent several weeks in Johnstown, Pa., after the great flood, on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with us, two of whom took the diarrhoea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. It cured both of them. I knew of several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be excelled and cheerfully recommend it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by H. E. DONALDSON.
